

Gulveer Singh

Gulveer Singh is entered across the 1500m, 5000m and 10,000m, but his strongest gold case lies in the longest track race.

The Hangzhou bronze medallist became Asian champion at both 5000m and 10,000m in 2023, then proved that range at the Commonwealth Games, winning 10,000m silver in 27:49.78 and 5000m bronze in 13:24.95. His 27:00.22 Indian record is faster than the lifetime bests of Japan's selected pair, Mebuki Suzuki and Yamato Yoshii. Suzuki, who finished second to Gulveer at the Asian Championships; he remains a closing-lap threat. China's Wang Wenjie lowered his national record to 27:47.53 this year, while Bahrain's Birhanu Balew adds quality. Gulveer's advantage is versatility: he can sustain a hard pace or wait for a sprint. Managing three entries is the concern. If the programme permits recovery and India prioritises the 10,000m, he has both the fastest credentials and the championship nerve to win.
