

TEQBALL

Indian contingent

Mohamed Anas Imran Beg (Men's Doubles, Mixed Doubles Team), Declan Marshall Gonsalves (Men's Doubles), Quimcy Joaquim Dsouza (Women's Singles, Mixed Doubles)

TOTAL MEDALS AT STAKE

18

A combination of football and table tennis, teqball is played on a curved table, with players allowed to hit the ball across the net with any part of their body except their arms and hands.

When teqball makes its Asian Games debut in Aichi-Nagoya, three Indians will be part of the historic occasion.

Beg and Gonsalves (in pic), along with Dsouza, have all been active on the international circuit since 2022.

SOFT TENNIS

Indian contingent

Yogesh Choudhary (Men's Team), Om Yadav (Men's Team), Jay Meena (Men's Team, Men's Singles, Mixed Doubles), Aniket Chirag Patel (Mixed Doubles, Men's Team), Aryan Thakur (Men's Singles, Men's Team), Aadhya Tiwari (Mixed Doubles, Women's Singles)

TOTAL MEDALS AT STAKE

20

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

Soft tennis made its Asian Games debut as a competitive sport in 1994, but Aichi-Nagoya will only be the fourth edition featuring Indian players.

In the previous edition in Hangzhou, Jay Meena (in pic) and Raga Sri Manogarbabu reached the singles quarterfinals.

Jay is the cousin of Indian national record-holder in men's pole vault Dev Meena. Last year, Jay created history by becoming the first Indian to win a medal — a bronze — at the Asian Soft Tennis Championships.

In his third Asian Games campaign, he will be India's best bet for a place on the podium.