

CANOE SLALOM

India does not have a realistic gold prospect in canoe slalom. Pallavi Jagtap, Rina Sen and Shikha Chouhan won women's team silver at the 2025 Asian Championships, but that event is not on the Aichi-Nagoya programme. None of them has won a senior individual Asian medal.

Hitesh Kewat finished seventh in the men's K1 at Hangzhou, while Pradhyumna Singh Rathod has no senior continental podium. India is yet to win an Asian Games canoe slalom medal.

Indian contingent

Shikha Chouhan (Women's Kayak Cross), Pallavi Jagtap and Rina Sen (Women's Canoe Single), Hitesh Kewat and Pradhyumna Singh Rathod (Men's Kayak Single and Kayak Cross)

TOTAL MEDALS AT STAKE

18

CANOE SPRINT

India is unlikely to mount a serious gold-medal challenge in canoe sprint either. At the 2026 Asian Championships, Games-bound Gyaneshwor Singh Philem and Raju Rawat finished eighth in the men's C2 500m, while Neha Devi Leichonbam and Megha Pradeep placed sixth in the women's C2 500m. Both crews remain some distance behind Asia's leaders. India's two Asian Games canoeing medals have come in the men's C2 1000m, but that event has been dropped. Hangzhou bronze medallists Arjun Singh and Sunil Singh Salam are also absent from the squad.

Indian contingent

Prohit Baroi, Prasanna Kumar Chempadiyil Sathyaprakash, Naocha Singh Laitonjam, Gyaneshwor Singh Philem, Raju Rawat, Harshwardhan Singh Shaktawat, Varinder Singh, Oinam Arun Singh, Neha Devi Leichonbam, Soniya Devi Phairembam, Megha Pradeep, Pooja, Parvathy Geetha and Dhanamanjuri Devi Khwairakpam

TOTAL MEDALS AT STAKE

36