Slaying the records: Smriti Mandhana was in the mood to rewrite the record books against Hong Kong, China. The India opener struck her 18th international century, the most by any player in the women's game, before overtaking former captain Mithali Raj's 10,868 runs to become the leading run-scorer in women's international cricket. India capped the record-breaking day with a 137-run victory. X@BCCIWOMEN
