Holding firm: England was wobbling against Italy at 105 for 5 in Kolkata before Will Jacks flipped the script. His unbeaten 53, brought up in just 21 balls, England's fastest T20 World Cup fifty, powered a 24-run win. Ben Manenti's 60 off 28 threatened late, but England held firm to reach the Super 8s. K. R. Turning point: After spilling Glenn Maxwell earlier, Pathum Nissanka redeemed himself with a stunning flying catch at backward point, halting Australia's surge. He then delivered the decisive blow with a sublime unbeaten 100 in Pallekele, sealing an eight-wicket win that left Australia's Super 8 hopes hanging by a thread and sent the co-host through. AFP
