

Hotspur 4-1, with Eberechi Eze and Viktor Gyokeres scoring two apiece.

Chelsea endured a frustrating outing at Stamford Bridge, conceding a stoppage-time equaliser in a 1-1 draw against Burnley.

Manchester City ensured the title race remains finely poised, edging Newcastle United 2-1 courtesy of a decisive brace from Nico O'Reilly.

Liverpool left it late in a tense away encounter against Nottingham Forest, claiming a 1-0 win through Alexis Mac Allister's strike in the 90+7th minute. The drama was heightened by the fact that the Argentine had a goal disallowed by VAR just seven minutes earlier, sparing the defending champion a nervy conclusion.

Manchester United's run of four successive league victories came to an end in a 1-1 draw with West Ham United. But it soon regained momentum with a 1-0 victory against Everton, courtesy a clean strike by substitute Benjamin Sesko.

After matchday 27, Arsenal leads the table with 61 points. Manchester City, with a game in hand, sits second on 56. Aston Villa (51) and Chelsea (45) occupy third and fourth, respectively. Manchester United is fifth, level on points with Chelsea but having played one match fewer. Liverpool, also on 45 points, trails United on goal difference. Tottenham, on 29 points, is 16th.

La Liga

It has been a turbulent time for Real Madrid. During its 2-1 Champions League victory over Benfica, Vinicius Junior alleged that he was racially abused by Gianluca Prestianni (see next page).

The episode appeared to cast a shadow over the squad, as Los Blancos suffered a 1-2 defeat to Osasuna in La Liga, with Vinicius scoring Real Madrid's only goal.

Barcelona, urged by Hansi Flick to shoulder greater responsibility ahead of its meeting with Levante, delivered a commanding response with a 3-0 win. Marc Bernal, Frenkie de Jong and

Just in time: Liverpool left it late in a tense away encounter against Nottingham Forest, claiming a 1-0 win through Alexis Mac Allister's strike in the 90+7th minute. REUTERS

Fermin Lopez found the net, while Lamine Yamal and new arrival Joao Cancelo each contributed an assist.

Atletico Madrid registered a 4-2 victory over Espanyol, powered by a brace from Alexander Sorloth, with Giuliano Simeone and Ademola Lookman adding one goal each.

The Basque clubs experienced contrasting fortunes. Athletic Bilbao secured a narrow 2-1 win over Elche, while Real Sociedad was held to an entertaining 3-3 draw by Real Oviedo.

Villarreal maintained its momentum with a 2-1 victory against Valencia.

After matchday 25, Barcelona leads with 61 points, closely followed by Real Madrid (60). Villarreal (51) and Atletico Madrid (48) complete the top four.