

shots] beforehand. The way the sport is going, we need multiple options against the bowler. Without disturbing my strengths, how can I still improve my range? That is the thought process. It takes time to develop a new shot, but I think I've done a very good job."

While Sai Sudharsan has impressed individually, it is his opening partnership with skipper

Shubman Gill that has underpinned Gujarat Titans' team plan.

Over the last two seasons, the pair has aggregated a league-leading 1453 runs at an average of 63.17. With an emphasis on accumulation and risk minimisation, the two are expected to provide a stable base for the middle order to capitalise on.

Sai Sudharsan believes this is a perfect alignment of team strategy and individual strengths.

"I think it was in unison, where our strengths aligned with what the team required. The team requirement was also very similar. We focus more on taking the game deeper and winning it from there," he says.

In addition to his appetite for runs, the Tamil Nadu batter is