New Zealand women clinch series against Proteas

1 Earlier in the tour, the Kiwi women had also secured a 4-1 T20I series win against the Proteas

New Zealand clinched a series win after defeating South Africa in the third and final ODI, which also gave it crucial ICC Women's Championship 2025-2029 points.

After securing a 66-run victory in Wellington, the White Ferns now sit atop the ICC Women's Championship points table with 10 points from their six matches, whereas South Africa is in third place with six points to their name. Earlier in the tour, they had also secured a 4-1 T20I series win against the Proteas.
