

glory and a steep required rate, only to find waiting fielders. Kishan's catch to dismiss Rachin Ravindra off Jasprit Bumrah was excellent. Later that night, Kishan spoke about losing his cousin sister in a car accident the previous day and how his exploits in the final were a tribute to her.

Sportsmen are often seen through the prism of their achievements, or lack of it, on the turf, but there is much they deal with internally. Mitchell Santner's men, who did well to reach the last hurdle, failed to cope with the genius of Bumrah, whose four for 15 is the stuff of legend. The visitors were bowled out for 159 as India won by 96 runs.

In its rather limited history since 2007, no team had ever retained the title or won at home in the ICC T20 World Cup. India busted both those trends and carved its own unique

A tale of contrasts: India's 255 for five in the summit clash was mounted on decisive batting that targeted the boundary ropes and beyond. New Zealand, led by Mitchell Santner (below), was never in the chase as its leading batters pursued glory and a steep required rate, only to find waiting fielders. EMMANUAL YOGINI & AP
