8 } The number of players to do the double of 1000 or more runs and 100 or more wickets during their T20I career. New Zealand captain Mitchell Santner is the latest and the first from his country to reach this milestone, and thus becoming the latest to join this elite group of players in T20I history. Notably, three players accomplished this within two days, on 24 and 25 February 2026. Among these players, only Zimbabwe's Sikandar Raza and Malaysia's Virandeep Singh have achieved the rare milestone of over 3,000 runs and 100 wickets. Bangladesh's Shakib Al Hasan, with more than 2,000 runs, is just one wicket away from his 150th.

Note: Three of the instances have come in the recent T20WC

12 } The number of consecutive victories achieved by India in the T20 World Cup, which has set a new record for the longest winning streak in the tournament. This surpassed the previous record of eight consecutive wins held by Australia and South Africa from 2022 to 2024. India's unbeaten run began after its semifinal loss to England by 10 wickets in Adelaide on 10 November 2022. However, the streak ended on 22 February 2026 in Ahmedabad, with a 76-run defeat to South Africa, concluding its unbeaten spell after 1 year, 8 months, and 17 days.
