

Finding momentum: Brazil earned its maiden win of the campaign as a Matheus Cunha (centre) brace and a Vinicius Junior (left) strike, all in the first half, ensured a 3-0 win over Haiti in Philadelphia. AP

New law: Paraguay's Miguel Almiron (extreme left) became the first player to be sent off under a new rule which punishes players for covering their mouth in confrontational situations. Fortunately, his side still held on for a 1-0 victory over Turkiye in the San Francisco Bay Area.
