

Butter fingers: India's Nandini Sharma (pictured) dropped two catches, with Yastika Bhatia and Radha Yadav also failing to hold on to chances in the first five overs against Bangladesh. Despite a forgettable day in the field, the Women in Blue managed to win by five wickets at Old Trafford. GETTY IMAGES

Fitting celebration: South Africa's Tazmin Brits marked her maiden T20I century against the Netherlands with a sign language celebration, signing, 'I am grateful to God', after reaching her hundred in 63 balls. The Proteas clinched an 88-run win at the Bristol County Ground. GETTY IMAGES

Bad timing: Sri Lanka needed seven runs off the last over to beat Scotland. Rachel Slater (in picture) was handed the ball and she conceded four from the first three deliveries. With three needed from three, the left-arm pacer went down with an injury. Priyanaz Chatterji had to step in to finish the over, and a four off the last ball wrapped up a three-wicket win for the Lankans with a ball to spare at Old Trafford. GETTY IMAGES

3 in 1: Pakistan captain Fatima Sana claimed a rare triple-wicket maiden against the Netherlands to cap a 37-run win, bundling out the Dutch for 89 in 18 overs. AP
