

Second U.S. Open title for Clark

Wyndham Clark captured his second U.S. Open title after surviving a tense back-nine battle to complete a wire-to-wire victory at Shinnecock Hills. Clark, whose first major title came at the 2023 U.S. Open, carded a three-over 73 to finish at four-under 276, edging fellow American Sam Burns by a single stroke.

He became only the ninth player to lead the U.S.

Open from start to finish and the first since Martin Kaymer achieved it in 2014. The 32-year-old collected a record winner's cheque of $4.5 million from the tournament's $22.5 million purse.

The triumph also marked a measure of personal redemption after Clark smashed a locker in frustration following last year's missed cut at Oakmont.
