A burst of Hurst: England's 'Wingless Wonders' won their maiden and only World Cup on home soil. Operating in a narrow 4-4-2 shape, Alf Ramsey's England relied on midfield solidity in both attack and defence. In extra-time of the final, England edged ahead via a controversial Geoff Hurst goal against Germany before the striker completed a hat-trick in the 120th minute to seal a 4-2 win. Immortal finish: Brazil's flair once again reigned supreme in the 1970 edition. Its success was best illustrated by fullback Carlos Alberto's strike in the final against Italy, rifling home a nine-pass move initiated in his own half.
