

Levi's Stadium

Location: Santa Clara (San Francisco Bay Area), California, USA

Home team: San Francisco 49ers (NFL)

History: Opened in 2014, it hosted Super Bowl 50.

Food/Culture: Reflects Silicon Valley's diversity – Korean and Mexican cuisine, Asian dining options, craft beer and tech-campus-style food experiences.

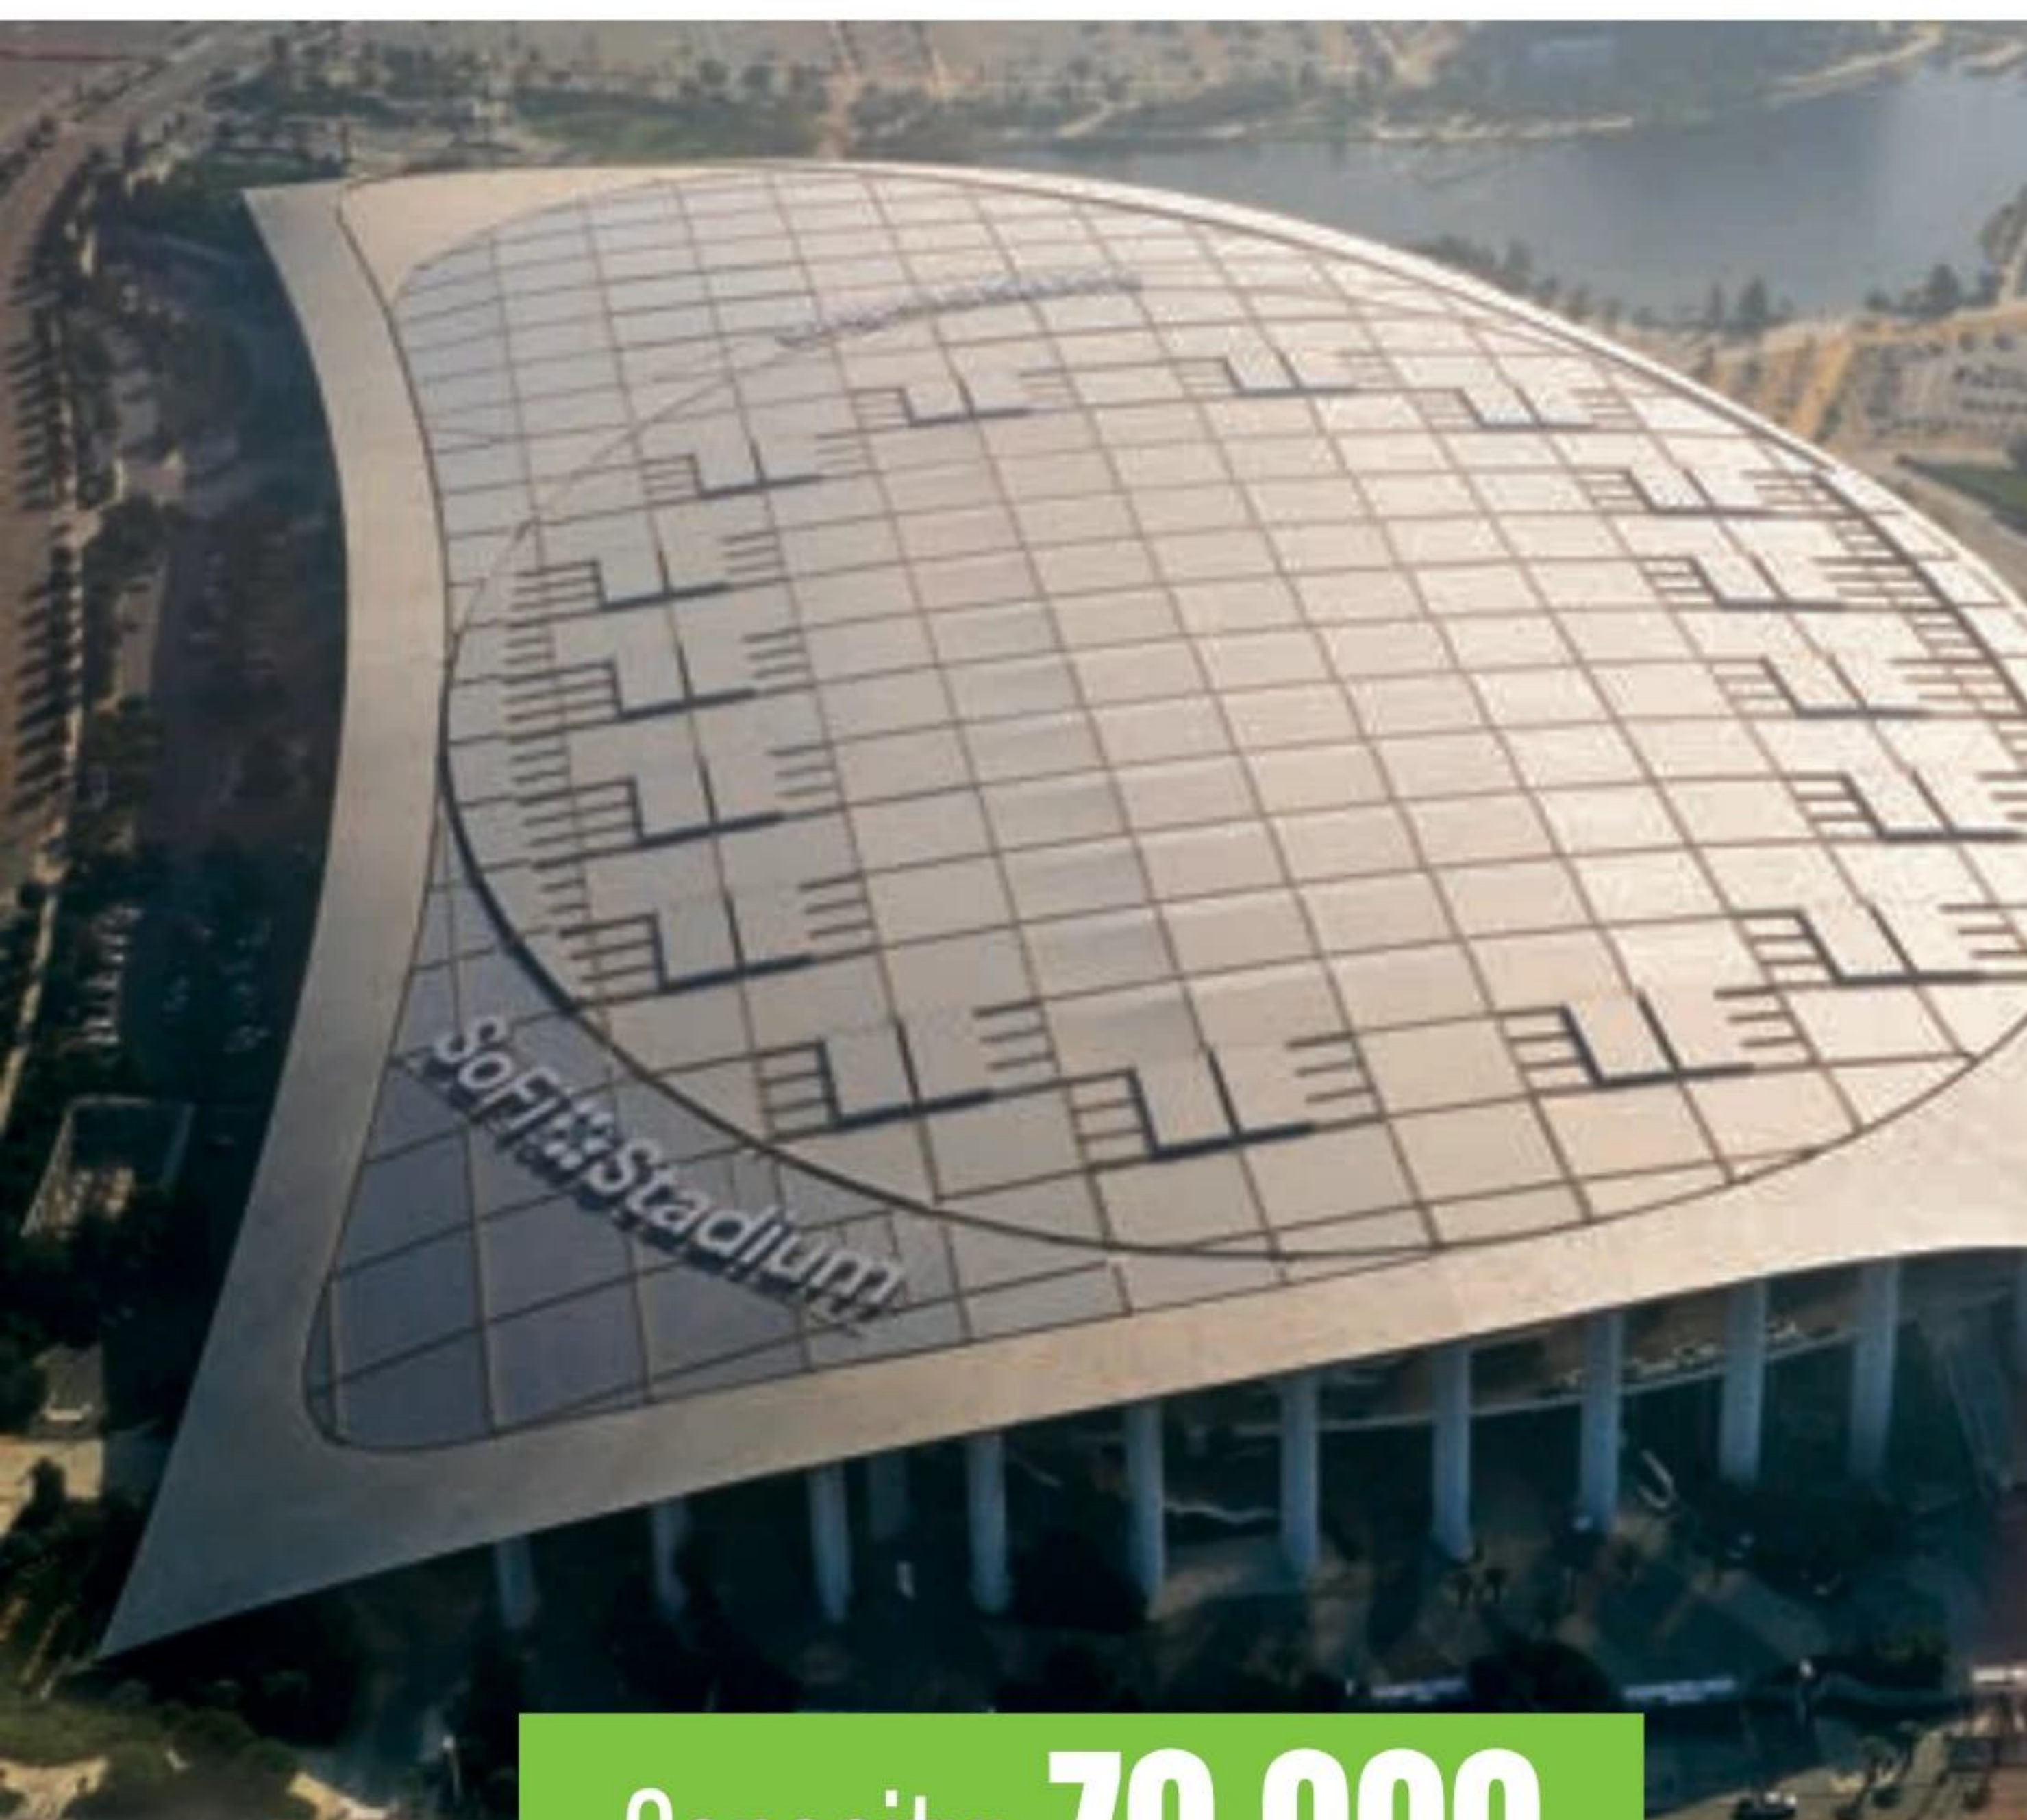

Venue upgrades: A natural grass venue, it was designed with FIFA field geometry in mind. Located in Santa Clara, it sits within Silicon Valley rather than San Francisco proper.

Weather: Around 27°C, with cooler evenings.

World Cup 2026: Six matches

Capacity: 71,000

Capacity: 70,000

SoFi Stadium

Location: Inglewood (Los Angeles), California, USA

Home team: Los Angeles Rams (NFL), Los Angeles Chargers (NFL)

History: Opened in 2020, it has hosted Super Bowl LVI, WrestleMania 39 and major global concerts.

Food/Culture: An Inglewood-Los Angeles blend of tacos, Korean-Mexican fusion, food trucks and a broader entertainment ecosystem around Hollywood Park and the nearby Kia Forum.

Venue upgrades: More than 400 corner seats removed to expand the pitch to FIFA specifications. The stadium is part of the larger Hollywood Park development, alongside major venues including the Intuit Dome, home of the LA Clippers.

Weather: Highs of 24-25°C.

World Cup 2026: Eight matches, including second quarterfinal

The remaining stadiums will feature in the next edition
