

« This isn't an AI simulation. This is Judgment Day – a professional heavyweight fight against an elite world champion in his prime. – YouTuber-turned boxer Jake Paul, who is set to fight former unified heavyweight champion Anthony Joshua on December 19 in Miami »

« This year, making four Grand Slam finals, coming here and winning, having this big streak at the end of the year, it's amazing. – Jannik Sinner said after beating Carlos Alcaraz to retain the ATP Finals title »

2:07.41

Less than a month after her 13th birthday, Chinese swimming sensation Yu Zidi claimed her first Asian record at the National Games in Shenzhen, winning the 200m individual medley. Her time of 2:07.41 bettered the Asian mark held by compatriot Ye Shiwen, who won the 2012 Olympic gold in 2:07.57 at age 16. Yu finished nearly a second ahead of 20-year-old runner-up Yu Yiting, the 2022 Asian Games champion. Only eight swimmers have ever gone faster in the event, led by Canadian Summer McIntosh, the current world record holder at 2:05.70.

88

Lenny Wilkens, a three-time inductee into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and the second-to-last man to serve as a player-coach in the NBA, has died at 88. Widely regarded as one of the finest players and coaches in league history, Wilkens was a nine-time All-Star across 15 seasons. He entered the Hall of Fame as a player in 1989 and as a coach in 1998. He had coached Team USA to gold at the 1996 Atlanta Games.

RACE TO DUBAI

Rory McIlroy lost the week-long USD 10 million DP World Tour Championship in a playoff against Matt Fitzpatrick, but did enough to ensure he was crowned the winner of the season-long Race to Dubai title. "It's absolutely incredible. I knew I still had a bit of work to do to get over the line in the Race to Dubai," said McIlroy, who will remain World No. 2. McIlroy topped the European tour's season-ending rankings for a seventh time, and for the fourth season in a row. He broke a tie with Severiano Ballesteros and is one behind Colin Montgomerie, who achieved the feat eight times. AP