

THE QUIET BEAUTIES OF A NOISY GAME

Sportstar reporters on the Women's World Cup trail capture stories beyond the scoreboard — of places, people, and fleeting cricketing moments.

A trip to Indore is never complete without a walk down Sarafa Bazaar, or so the Diary was told, repeatedly. From the staff at the Devi Ahilya Bai Holkar Airport to the cab driver who picked me up and the hotel concierge, everyone had the same suggestion.

Indore is a foodie's haven, even more so during Diwali. After match duties at the Holkar Stadium, the Diary and a few colleagues set out to conquer the jam-packed, winding lanes of Sarafa Bazaar. What began

Quiet pride: A smile worth more than a headline, as Bangladesh pacer Marufa Akter holds her Sportstar feature in hand.
