

Jadeja's all-round show

5} The number of occasions when Ravindra Jadeja did the double of a century and 4-plus wickets in an innings in his Test career. In the Ahmedabad Test, while scoring his sixth Test century, along with a four-wicket haul, he became only the third player in Test cricket history to achieve this rare feat on five or more occasions going level with his former teammate R. Ashwin. Only England's Ian Botham has done so on more occasions — a record six. For the record, West Indian Garry Sobers and Bangladeshi Shakib Al Hasan have done so on four occasions each.

7} The number of Test centuries for Yashasvi Jaiswal before the age of 24 years. He thus became only the eighth batter in Test cricket history to register seven or more centuries before the age of 24. Aussie legend Sir Don Bradman (12 centuries) and Indian Sachin Tendulkar (11) are the only batters with 10 or more centuries before 24. However, as an opening batter, his tally of Test centuries equals South African Graeme Smith. They both have seven centuries before the age of 24 while opening the batting. The table below have the details.

Most Test centuries as an opening batter before turning 24

100	Opening batter	Inn	Runs	Ave.	HS	From	To
7	Graeme Smith (SA)	50	2542	54.09	277	Oct 2002	Mar 2004
7*	Yashavi Jaiswal (Ind)	49	2428	51.66	214*	Jul 2023	Oct 2025

 Hutton's Test career was interrupted because of the WW2. His next century (his sixth) came in Feb 1947, seven and half years later.*
