

Half-pin in three-movers

By C.G.S.Narayanan

The World Chess Composition Tournament is a long-established team event enabling composers from all over the world to compete at international level with new chess problems and studies on set themes. Inspiring themes and joint work have been the highlights of each WCCT. Eleven such tournaments have been held to date, with enthusiastic worldwide participation. The themes set for the sev12 WCCT have been announced now in eight sections. Section A Two-mover; Section B Three movers; Section C-More movers; Section D Studies; Section E Helpmates; Section F Selfmates; Section G Fairies and Section H Retro

The three mover theme; (proposed by Israel) A black halfpin is created after Black's first move and/or White's 2nd move. This halfpin must be fully exploited by the mates, namely, there will be at least one move by each of the two half-pinned black pieces followed by a mate exploiting the pin of the other piece.

Mate in three-moves

1.Qg4! [2.Ne7+,Ne3+]
1...Kd5 2.Kf6 [3.Rd3#] c4/b4 3.
Qxc4/Qd4# 1...Kxe5 2.Bf7 [3.Nd3#]
c4/b4 3.Nxc4/Bd4#

In three-movers the initial threat enables black or white to create a half-pin. In the first problem above the BK moves to d5 or e5 which is followed by quiet moves of white which covers BK flight square sets up secondary threats.
