A glimpse into the unsung world behind India's triumphant women's cricket team — the tireless minds and hands that shaped its rise from promise to glory.

Amol Muzumdar — Head coach & Batting coach

Muzumdar (sitting, fifth from left) was appointed head coach of the Indian women's cricket team in October 2023. The domestic stalwart represented Mumbai, Assam, and Andhra Pradesh during a prolific 21-year career, amassing over 11,000 First-Class runs — more than 9,000 of them in the Ranji Trophy.

Before taking charge of the senior women's side, Muzumdar served as batting coach for India's Under-19 and Under-23 teams, among several other developmental roles. When he took over, the Indian women's team was searching for stability and direction. Under his guidance, the Women in Blue have rediscovered both, winning 23 of the 38 matches since.

Aavishkar Salvi — Bowling coach

Salvi (sitting, right corner), a former India pacer, rose swiftly through the ranks — from a reserve seamer in Mumbai's setup to the side's pace spearhead, earning India A and senior national call-ups along the way. He finished with 169 First-Class wickets and four in as many One-Day Internationals, and also featured for Delhi Daredevils (now Delhi Capitals) in the IPL.

After coaching stints with Pondicherry and Punjab, Salvi was appointed bowling coach of the Indian women's team ahead of the 2024 South Africa series — a role he continued through the 2025 Women's ODI World Cup, where he helped instil discipline and precision in the attack. Kranti Goud's evolution as India's frontline pacer owes much to her extensive work under Salvi. His focus on seam control and consistency has amplified her natural swing and wicket-taking ability, often proving decisive in key spells.

Munish Bali — Fielding coach

Munish (sitting, left corner) has been part of the Indian women's senior setup since 2022, bringing with him extensive coaching experience across age-group and national levels. A former India Women Under-19 fielding coach, Bali has previously guided Punjab's U-15, U-16, U-17, and U-19 teams, shaping young talent across tiers. He was also the assistant coach of India's 2008 Under-19 World Cup-winning side and later worked with the senior women's team during the 2011 and 2012 seasons. India's fielding remains a work in progress, but
