

A tale of contrasting fortunes: Mohamed Salah scored his 250th goal for Liverpool. Below: Kevin De Bruyne might sit out the rest of the year due to a hamstring injury sustained after taking a penalty against Inter Milan. REUTERS undergone surgery and looks set to be sidelined for the rest of the year.

The injury did little to shake Napoli's form, as it beat Lecce in its next league game thanks to Anguissa's fourth strike of the campaign. Meanwhile, Inter almost dropped points again against Hellas Verona, but a stoppage-time own goal by Martin Frese proved to be the saving grace for the Nerazzurri.

Elsewhere, Juventus sacked manager Igor Tudor after the team's 1-0 defeat away to Lazio, extending its winless run to eight games. He was replaced by the seasoned Luciano Spalletti, who led the record-winner to a 3-1 win against Udinese in his first match in charge.

Napoli leads the pack after 10 games with 22 points, while Inter, AC Milan, and Roma follow closely, all tied on 21.

Ligue 1

Paris Saint-Germain extended its patchy league run, recording a convincing 3-0 win against Stade Brestois before being held to a 1-1 draw by FC Lorient. In their following game, the Parisians seemed to be heading towards another stalemate against OGC Nice but walked away with all three points after substitute Goncalo Ramos headed home from a corner in the closing moments of stoppage time.

Title challenger Olympique de Marseille failed to capitalise on PSG's rough patch, losing to RC Lens and drawing with Angers before edging AJ Auxerre 1-0. The Roberto De Zerbi-coached side sits second in the table with 22 points, level with Lens and two behind leader PSG.

Bundesliga

Bayern Munich continued its dominance in the German top flight, beating Bayer Leverkusen 3-0.

Borussia Dortmund had to fight hard for three points, edging past Augsburg 1-0.

RB Leipzig had an easier outing, beating VfB Stuttgart 3-1.

At the end of matchday 9, Bayern (27) stays top. Leipzig (22) is second, with Dortmund (20) and Stuttgart (18) in third and fourth.

(All results updated as of November 3, 2025)