« I've had enough, stay away from me. Please don't come to Germany for the next two or three years – Alexander Zverev to Taylor Fritz after losing the Stuttgart Open final »

« To be 18 years old and to be swimming that incredibly off the back of the Olympic Games, she's an absolute phenomenon. To smash the world record like that, who knows how far she's going to go – Ariarne Titmus praising Summer McIntosh after the teen broke her senior's 400m freestyle record with a time of 3:54.18 »

18th

J. J. Spaun sank an improbable 64-1/2 foot birdie putt at the 18th hole to cap his stunning first major victory, emerging from the pack in the wild, waterlogged final round of the U.S. Open, the year's third golf major, at the Oakmont Country Club. The 34-year-old had just one prior victory on the PGA Tour.

WTA 500

Tatjana Maria completed her fairytale run at Queen's Club as the German qualifier beat American Amanda Anisimova 6-3, 6-4 in the final to become the oldest winner of a WTA 500 event. Over at the Libema Open, Belgian third seed Elise Mertens beat Elena-Gabriela Ruse 6-3, 7-6(4) in the final to claim her second WTA Tour title of the year, while Canadian Gabriel Diallo won his maiden ATP title with a victory over Belgium's Zizou Bergs in the men's final.

SOARING HIGH

Sweden's Armand Duplantis broke the men's pole vault world record for the 12th time after he soared 6.28 metres at the Stockholm Diamond League event. The American-born double Olympic champion improved on his previous record, set in February, by one centimetre on his first attempt, making the most of the perfect conditions to delight the home crowd.
