

HURDLES BEFORE THE VAULT: HOW TEJASWIN GETS HIS POLES TO THE ASIAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

A lift used by the Prime Minister, five-hour waits, and letters to multiple officials — this is how Tejaswin Shankar hauls his 16-foot poles to the Championships.

REUTERS

Jonathan Selvaraj

jonathan.selvaraj@thehindu.co.in

Tejaswin Shankar has set lofty goals for himself at this month's Asian Athletics Championships in Gumi, Korea. He hopes not only to improve on the bronze medal he won in the previous edition in Bangkok, but also to better his decathlon national record of 7666 points.

However, while his competition begins on May 30, the real challenge for Tejaswin will start much earlier — on the day of his