Bundesliga

After almost 15 years since his senior debut, Harry Kane (right) is within touching distance of the first major trophy of his career as Bayern Munich extended its lead at the top of the standings.

Following its exit from the Champions League, the Bavarians bounced back by thumping relegation-battling FC Heidenheim 4-0.

Kane opened the scoring while Konrad Laimer and Kingsley Coman added on before Joshua Kimmich landed the final blow early in the second half.

Bayern's closest competitor and defending champion, Bayer Leverkusen, virtually loosened its grip on the trophy after being held to a 1-1 draw by FC St Pauli.

Patrik Schick's strike was cancelled out by Carlo Boukhalfa, leaving Leverkusen eight points behind Bayern with four rounds remaining.

Bayern can secure the title in the next matchweek if it wins against Mainz and Leverkusen fails to take all three points against FC Augsburg.

Ligue 1

After securing a record-extending 13th league title, Paris Saint-Germain shifted its focus to another achievement: becoming the first French team to go unbeaten for an entire season. Luis Enrique's (above) men kept their hopes of the 'invincibles' title alive after beating relegation-threatened Le Havre 2-1. Desire Doue gave the Parisians an early lead thanks to Bradley Barcola's 10th assist of the season, while Goncalo Ramos tapped in from close range in the second half.

While the trophy will go to Paris, the others in the top six still have the three remaining Champions League spots (two confirmed spots and one qualifying round spot) to play for. Only four points separate second-placed Olympique de Marseille and sixth-placed Olympique Lyonnais with just four games left in the season. AS Monaco (3rd), LOSC Lille (4th) and OGC Nice (5th) make up the rest of the top six.
