

Blip on the radar: Liverpool could not follow their league-winning match on a positive note, losing 1-3 to Chelsea. AP

Amorim prioritising the Europa League semifinal second-leg fixture against Athletic Club as he fielded the club's youngest-ever Premier League starting team.

Manchester City edged past Wolves 1-0, providing a huge boost towards its quest to clinch a Champions League spot for the next season.

Arsenal dropped further points with a 1-2 loss against Bournemouth. Newcastle played a 1-1 draw with Brighton.

At the end of Round 34, Liverpool stays top with 82 points, followed by Arsenal (67), Manchester City (64), and Newcastle (63) in second, third and fourth. Chelsea (63) stays fifth, while Manchester United (39) languishes in 15th.

La Liga

Table-topper Barcelona edged a 2-1 win against Mallorca, with Real Madrid beating Celta Vigo 3-2 to maintain pressure on its arch-rival.

It was another frustrating day at the office for Diego Simeone's Atletico Madrid, which drew 0-0 with Alaves. Athletic faced Real Sociedad in the Basque derby, which ended in a goalless draw.

After Round 34, Barcelona (79) and Real Madrid (75) occupy the first and second positions in the table, followed by Atletico (67) and Athletic (61) in third and fourth. Villarreal (58), in fifth, also remains in a UCL spot.

Bundesliga

Bayern Munich had the chance to win a record-extending 34th Bundesliga title with a win against RB Leipzig. However, a 90+4 minute equaliser by Yussuf Poulsen led to the match finishing in a 3-3 draw and delayed the Bavarians' title celebrations.

A day later, however, Vincent Kompany's men clinched the league without kicking a ball after Bayer Leverkusen drew 2-2 against SC Freiburg, which took Bayern's lead to an unassailable one with two games remaining. Football also saw the 'Harry Kane curse' lifted, as the English forward won his first major career title. Borussia Dortmund, which has underperformed this season by its standards, beat Wolfsburg 4-0.

Eintracht Frankfurt played a 1-1 draw with Mainz.

After Round 32, Bayern (76) tops the standings, with Leverkusen second (68). Frankfurt (56) and Freiburg (52) occupy the final two UCL spots in third and fourth.

Serie A

Inter, which was dealt a huge blow in its bid to defend the Scudetto after a 0-1 loss against Roma, followed it up with a win by the same margin against Verona. Napoli, which capitalised on Inter's defeat, maintained top spot with a narrow 1-0 win against Lecce.

Juventus drew 1-1 with Bologna, while Atalanta had a fantastic day at the office after a 4-0 win against Monza.

After Round 35, Napoli (77) is top, followed by Inter (74). Atalanta (68) is third, and Juventus (63) is fourth. Milan beat Venezia 2-0 but is ninth with 54 points, with a game in hand.

Ligue 1

PSG, having already secured the title in its usual dominating fashion, will not finish the season unbeaten after suffering its first Ligue 1 defeat — a 3-1 loss to Nice at the Parc des Princes.

This was followed by its first away loss, a 1-2 defeat to Strasbourg, with manager Luis Enrique fielding a second-string side to focus on the Champions League semifinal second leg against Arsenal.

After Round 32, PSG stays top with 78 points. Marseille (59) is second, with Monaco (58) in third.

(All results are updated as of May 5, 2025)

« Harry Kane won his first major career title with Bayern Munich after the club won the Bundesliga »

GETTY IMAGES