Madrid ahead when Kylian Mbappe was fouled in the box, but Giorgi Mamardashvili saved the penalty in the 13th minute. Within seven minutes, Mouctar Diakhaby headed the ball home to give Valencia the lead.

Vinicius redeemed himself after the break when he found the net through a penalty-box melee, but Hugo Duro's stoppage-time strike rang the death knell for the hosts' hopes. Duro, who had scored in each of the league clashes against Madrid in the last two seasons, added another to his tally, heading Rafa Mir's cross into the net.

There was a slice of history in the other high-profile game involving Barcelona, which drew 1-1 with Real Betis. The result saw Betis remain unbeaten against Barca in La Liga for the first time in 18 years.

Meanwhile, Pablo Barrios rose to the occasion for Atletico Madrid to strike in the dying moments from outside the corner, earning all three points against Sevilla.
