

One-man show: Scott McTominay's brace helped Napoli salvage a draw against Inter Milan. REUTERS winner in the second minute of stoppage time when Mahmoud Dahoud scored, but English youngster Carney Chukwuemeka's strike four minutes later helped Dortmund salvage a point.

At the end of matchday 16, Bayern enjoys a healthy 11-point lead at the top of the table, with Dortmund (33) and RB Leipzig (29) in second and third respectively.

Serie A

Inter Milan was left frustrated by another Scott McTominay masterclass as the Scotsman bagged a brace for Napoli to hold the leader to a 2-2 draw in a crucial title-race fixture. Federico Dimarco and Hakan Calhanoglu both saw their efforts cancelled out by McTominay, ending Inter's six-match winning run in the league. However, Napoli will be without Antonio Conte on the touchline for a few games after he was sent off for his outburst at the referee's decision to award Inter a penalty, which Calhanoglu blasted in off the upright. Meanwhile, AC Milan failed to take advantage of Inter dropping points after being held to a 1-1 draw by relegation-battling Fiorentina. The night could have gone worse for Milan if not for Christopher Nkunku's stoppage-time equaliser, which leaves it on 40 points, three behind Inter at the top, while Napoli sits third on 39.

Ligue 1

Paris Saint-Germain was boosted by the return of Desire Doue and Ousmane Dembele, both of whom got on the scoresheet in its 2-1 win against city rival Paris FC.

This was the first top-flight derby the French capital has witnessed since 1990 and helped PSG close the gap to one point on surprise league leader Lens, which beat Toulouse 3-0. However, Olympique de Marseille's bid to stay in the title race took a major hit as it lost 0-2 to 16th-placed Nantes, leaving Roberto De Zerbi's side in third place, eight points off the top.

DOMESTIC CUPS

FA Cup

The FA Cup magic is alive and well as the world's oldest cup competition saw David slaying Goliath twice.

Wrexham sent the Racecourse into delirium after beating Nottingham Forest 4-3 on penalties. Goalkeeper Arthur Okonkwo was the star of the night, with two saves proving vital to keeping his team alive in the competition..

Macclesfield's achievement, however, was a true fairytale. The sixth-tier club shocked defending champion Crystal Palace 2-1. With Macclesfield sitting 117 places below Palace in the English football pyramid, it was statistically the biggest upset in FA Cup history. It was the first time the defending champion had lost to non-League opposition since Palace beat Wolves in 1909 while in the Southern League.

French Champions Trophy

PSG faced its bitter rival Marseille in the French Champions Trophy clash and came out victorious after clinching a 4-1 win on penalties. However, the clash, held in Kuwait as part of Ligue 1's efforts to promote the league beyond French borders, was largely shunned by fans due to travel costs. A banner at Marseille's home league game against Nantes summed up the mood: 'FCT 2026 in Kuwait. And for 2027, on the moon?'

Spanish Super Cup

In-form Barcelona might have come into the Spanish Super Cup final expecting to breeze past Real Madrid, just as it did last year. While the outcome was the same, the 90 minutes getting there was far from easy. Barcelona dominated possession and had fitter players, but it never looked secure because Real is not the kind of team to back