

» COVER PACKAGE F1 ROOKIES

KIMI ANTONELLI (Mercedes)

Seventh place — 150 points

Broke Hamilton's record (109) for most points in debut season

Three podiums — Canada (3rd), Brazil (2nd), Las Vegas (3rd inherited)

One sprint pole — The youngest driver to ever start from the top spot in any F1 session

Reached Q3 16/24 times

CLASS OF 2025

Tracking the highs and lows of F1's bold new batch of rookie drivers.

Kavita Menon

kavita.menon@thehindu.co.in Every new Formula One season brings hope, but 2025 brought possibility. It marked the rise of a new generation, with several rookies stepping onto the grid together, a wave of fresh talent arriving at a moment of change. They were ready to test themselves against the machinery, the men who had defined the era, and the relentless spotlight of F1.

Over 24 races, some shone with brilliance, while others faltered under the sport's unforgiving demands. For this junior group, the campaign was as much about lessons learnt as it was about flashes of promise.

Leading the pack was Andrea Kimi Antonelli, Mercedes's newest hopeful. Tasked with filling the vast void left by Lewis Hamilton, he repaid the faith with glimpses of his prowess. Despite scoring less than half the points of his experienced teammate George Russell, the teenager produced a debut campaign that

Pics: GETTY IMAGES