Back to his best: Arshdeep Singh redeemed himself with two for 14 in the third T20I in Dharamsala, after a forgettable outing in the second match where he conceded 54 and created the ignominious record of bowling the longest over (13 deliveries) by an Indian in the format. Harshit Rana and Varun Chakaravathy picked two wickets apiece to restrict South Africa to 117.

Paving the way: Abhishek Sharma blazed his way to 35 off just 18 balls as India added 68 runs inside the PowerPlay, with 60 of those coming for the opening wicket. Shubman Gill's run-a-ball 28 and Tilak Varma's unbeaten 25 anchored India to a seven-wicket triumph and a 2-1 lead in the series. R. V. MOORTHY
