

Photo finish: Noah Lyles won the 100m gold at the 2024 Paris Olympics by the closest of margins. RITU RAJ KONWAR

What's a race you wish you could be a part of?

There are two, actually. One would be the Olympic 100m final in 2012. The second would probably be the 200m final at the 2009 Berlin World Championships, when Bolt broke the 200m world record. I've never had the privilege of racing anyone who has run a faster race than me, and I've always wondered how I would respond to that — just how fast I could run when I had to race someone as fast as me.

When's the last time you really laughed?

I laughed really hard yesterday when we were driving down from the airport and I was talking about The Office with someone. It's my favourite show!

Who's the most famous person in your phone contacts?

Mr. Beast.

Who would you consider swapping bodies with for a day?

I've never really thought about it, but perhaps Kirk Franklin (gospel singer). He looks like he has fun. He's a man of God and a musician, and he loves what he does. He's gone through his struggles, as we all do, but he clearly enjoys what he does.