

Figure 47-1: The Mondrian art program's computer-generated art. A different image is generated each time the program runs.

How It Works

The algorithm works by creating a data structure (the canvas dictionary) with randomly spaced vertical and horizontal lines, as in Figure 47-2.

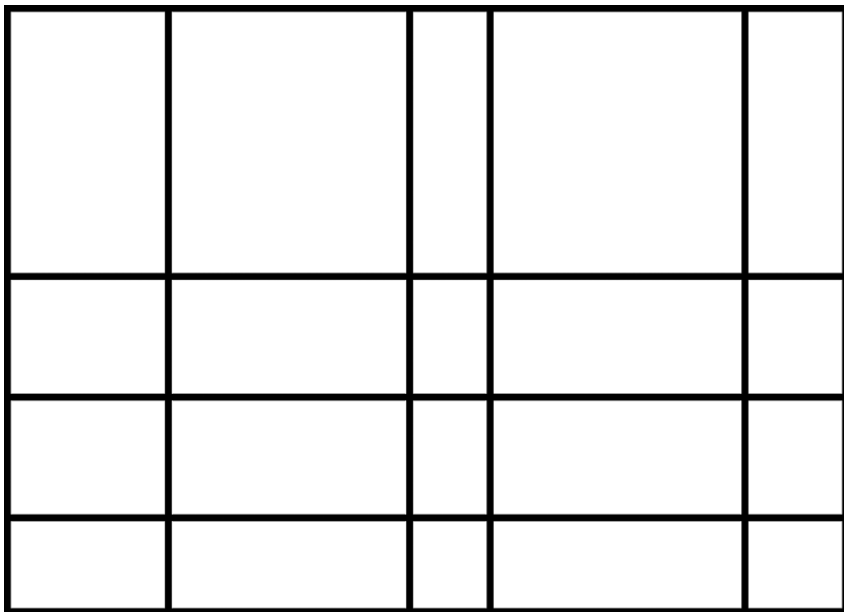

Figure 47-2: The first step of the Mondrian art algorithm creates a grid.