

CreateView is used to provide logic to display an input form to create an object. When inputs are submitted, CreateView handles the inputs and registers the data in a database.

UpdateView

UpdateView is used to provide logic to display an input form to update an object. When inputs are submitted, UpdateView handles the modification of the registered data in a database.

DeleteView

DeleteView is used to provide logic to display a page for the data delete action and handle the data delete process.