

Template with Model Relations

When you want to display data from a model with a relationship, you need to slightly adjust how to write a template file.

Modal with ForeignKey

Showing data from a different model connected through ForeignKey is relatively straightforward.

In the ForeignKey (One-To-Many) case in the main figure, each employee data record has only one division data set. For example, John belongs to the Finance division but not to other divisions.