

include other URLs written in other urls.py files created under the app directory.

The approach to connecting with more than one application is the same. You can add another line of URL patterns in the main urls.py file, like shown in the illustration below.

