

Bumrah quickest Indian pacer to 150 Test wickets

34 } The number of Test matches Jasprit Bumrah needed to claim his 150th Test wicket (victim: Ben Stokes) in the first innings of the Visakhapatnam Test on 3 February 2024. He is now the quickest among Indian pacers to reach this milestone. Among Indians, only R. Ashwin (29 Tests in November 2015) and Ravindra Jadeja (32 Tests in August 2017) — both spin bowlers — have done it quicker. For the record, Kapil Dev (39 Tests in June 1982) and Javagal Srinath (40 Tests in October 1999), previously, were the two quickest among Indian pace bowlers. Incidentally, Bumrah is the second fastest to reach this target among Asian pace bowlers. Only Pakistan's Waqar Younis needed fewer Tests (27) while achieving it on 10 February 1994.

Quickest to reach 150 Test wickets among Asian pace bowlers

Tests	Bowler	For	Balls	Runs	Wkts	Ave.	S/R	Achieved on
27	Waqar Younis	Pak	5461	2792	152	18.37	35.93	10 Feb 1994
34	Jasprit Bumrah	Ind	6802	3084	152	20.29	44.75	3 Feb 2024
37	Imran Khan	Pak	9386	4139	152	27.23	61.75	23 Mar 1982
37	Shoaib Akhtar	Pak	6624	3717	150	24.78	44.16	16 Nov 2005
39	Kapil Dev	Ind	8593	4306	152	28.33	56.53	10 Jun 1982

India's Jasprit Bumrah. K. R. DEEPAK

Notes: * Among pacers, Waqar is second quickest behind Englishman Sydney Barnes (24 Tests in December 1913)
* Bumrah is the 17th Indian bowler to reach 150 Test wickets and the seventh Indian pacer.

2578 } The number of Test runs for Joe Root against India. His tally of runs is now the most by any opponent batter against India. He went past the previous record tally of 2555 runs by Ricky Ponting during the second innings of the Hyderabad Test match. Root achieved the landmark in 47 innings as compared to the Aussie's 51. For the record, eight batters have aggregated 2000 or more runs against India in Tests. The others not listed in the table below are West Indian Shivnarine Chanderpaul (2171), Australians Michael Clarke (2049) and Steve Smith (2042). Clive Lloyd was the first opponent batter to reach 2000 Test runs against India on 12 November 1983, while Javed Miandad was the quickest to do so in just 35 innings, on 15 November 1989.

Leading run-getters against India in Test cricket

Runs	Batter	For	Mts	Inns	Ave.	HS	100	50	Career span against India
2578	Joe Root	Eng	27	49	58.59	218	9	10	Dec 2012 to Feb 2024
2555	Ricky Ponting	Aus	29	51	54.36	257	8	12	Oct 1996 to Jan 2012
2431	Alastair Cook	Eng	30	54	47.67	294	7	9	Mar 2006 to Sep 2018
2344	Clive Lloyd	WI	28	44	58.60	242*	7	12	Dec 1966 to Dec 1983
2228	Javed Miandad	Pak	28	39	67.52	280*	5	14	Oct 1978 to Dec 1989

England's Joe Root. GETTYIMAGES

190 } The first-innings lead gained by India in the first Test in Hyderabad is now its second-biggest in a defeat. However, this is its most significant lead gained in a home Test defeat. Previously, India had lost the Chennai (at the Corporation Stadium) Test against Australia by 139 runs after taking the first-innings lead of 65 runs, which means that the Hyderabad Test was the first home defeat for India after taking a first-innings lead of 100 or more runs.

Highest first innings leads for India in lost Test matches

Lead	Team1		Team2	Opponent's winning margin	Venue	Date
192	Sri Lanka (183 & 367)	beat	India (375 & 112)	63 runs	Galle	15 Aug 2015
190	England (246 & 420)	beat	India (436 & 202)	28 runs	Hyderabad	28 Jan 2024
132	India (416 & 245)	lost to	England (284 & 378/3)	7 wickets	Birmingham	5 Jul 2022
80	Australia (145 & 451)	beat	India (225 & 333)	38 runs	Adelaide	29 Jan 1992
69	Australia (463 & 401/7d)	beat	India (532 & 210)	122 runs	Sydney	6 Jan 2008

Note: Since that Galle defeat, India's head-to-head match results in Tests against Sri Lanka read: won 8, drawn 2, loss nil.