

within the top eight by making it to the quarterfinals in men's and women's team events. It may help them improve their world rankings and boost their chances of qualifying for Paris 2024.

Promising archer Dhiraj Bommadevara, who took an individual bronze and contributed to three team medals in the World Cups and the team silver in the Asian Games, fought back after his forgettable individual performance in Hangzhou to win India's first Olympic quota place in archery.

With the primary focus being Paris 2024, the Indian recurve archers will try their best to make the cut through the final qualifier in Antalya, Turkey, from June 14 to 17 this year.

Olympian Atanu Das has shown signs of returning to form (as he

On target: Ojas Deotale secured the men's individual gold medal as India swept the individual compound titles in the World Championships. PTI was part of the men's team that got medals in the World Cups and a silver at the Asian Games with Dhiraj and Tushar Shelke), and with another Olympian Tarundeep Rai still shooting well, there is a healthy competition between the seasoned and up-and-coming archers. It augurs well for Indian archery.

Even though the Indian women, who shot a team bronze through Ankita Bhakat, Simranjeet Kaur, and Bhajan Kaur in Hangzhou after clinching a team bronze in the World Cup Stage-4 in Paris, have done decently, they need to be more consistent. The youngsters

Highlights of 2023

17-year-old compound archer Aditi Swami won two World titles, individual and women's team, and Ojas Deotale claimed the men's individual crown to make history at the World Championships.

Indian archers won 17 medals, including 12 by compound archers and five by recurve archers in the World Cups.

India had its best-ever showing in the Hangzhou Asian Games, winning nine medals, including five golds. Compound archers, led by V. Jyothi Surekha, contributed seven medals, while recurve archers landed two team medals.

B. Dhiraj earned an individual quota place for Paris 2024.