

Known for their defensive solidity, the Steelers combined aggression and precision in both defence and attack this season.

"This team has grown together over the last few years. The NYP (New Young Players) programme has been our priority. Most of our players are scouted and developed by us. Jaideep (Dahiya) joined us as an NYP four years ago, and now he's our title-winning captain. IIS (Inspire Institute of Sport) also plays a crucial role in helping players reach their full potential. It provides them with access to world-class training facilities, sports science expertise, and comprehensive support in nutrition and medicine," Steelers' CEO Divyanshu Singh told Sportstar after the final.

This victory also marks a significant milestone for Manpreet, who had previously experienced heartbreak in three PKL finals as a coach with both Gujarat Giants (formerly Gujarat Fortune Giants) and the Steelers.

Finally, the former Indian all-rounder achieved victory against a team he once captained to a PKL title in
