

Bronze medalists: The Paris bronze was India's 13th Olympic medal in hockey. It was also the first time since 1972 that India secured back-to-back Olympic medals in the sport. GETTY IMAGES

Indian hockey's revival: A year of triumph and transition

Indian hockey teams achieved success in 2024, with the men's team winning Olympic bronze and Asian Champions Trophy, while the women's team retained the Asian Champions Trophy title.

Joan Mathew Jacob
joan.mathew@thehindu.co.in

From Olympic glory to the resurgence of the Hockey India League and bidding farewell to some of the sport's greatest pillars, 2024 was an extraordinary year for Indian hockey.

After an underwhelming first half of the year, both the men's and women's teams bounced back to secure titles on the international stage.

Indian men's hockey team coach Craig Fulton's 'defend to win' philosophy was in full flow, while Harendra Singh returned for a second stint as head coach of the women's team, turning around its fortunes after a string of disappointing results under Janneke Schopman.

Despite securing a spot in the Summer Games, Craig Fulton's men had a bumpy and punishing journey towards their medal aspirations in Paris. The side ended its FIH Pro League 2023-24 campaign in a