

Lone fighter: Neeraj Chopra's second consecutive Olympic medal wasn't enough to overshadow the underwhelming performance of the rest of the Indian athletics contingent. PTI who raced to gold in the women's 100m event.

The USA's Sydney McLaughlin-Levrone successfully defended her 400m hurdles Olympic title, shattering her own world record with a time of 50.37 seconds.

Belgium's Nafissatou Thiam

achieved a rare hat-trick, becoming the first woman to clinch three consecutive Olympic heptathlon crowns.

Kenya's Faith Kipyegon also completed a historic triple, becoming the first woman to secure three successive Olympic gold medals in the 1,500m.

The athletics events of the Paris Games concluded on a high note as the Netherlands' Sifan Hassan won the women's marathon, becoming the first athlete since Emil Zatopek to win medals in the 5,000m, 10,000m, and marathon in a single Olympics.