

4 } The number of occasions when two Indian pace bowlers have claimed four or more wickets in the same innings of a Test match on Australian soil. In the recent Test at the Adelaide Oval, Jasprit Bumrah and Mohammed Siraj accomplished this feat in the first innings, although India ultimately lost the match. Notably, Kapil Dev and Siraj are the only bowlers in this context to have achieved this on two separate occasions.

Indian pace bowlers hunting in a pair in Tests in Australia

Figures	Bowler	Venue	Month, Year	Result
5/97	Kapil Dev	Sydney	January 1981	Lost
5/107	Karsan Ghavri
5/97	Kapil Dev	Melbourne	December 1991	Lost
4/84	Manoj Prabhakar
5/73	Mohd Siraj	Brisbane	January 2021	Won
4/61	Shardul Thakur
4/61	Jasprit Bumrah	Adelaide	December 2024	Lost
4/98	Mohd Siraj

Note: The occurrence in Brisbane was in the second innings

4 } The number of times captain Rohit Sharma was dismissed by his opposing captain during his Test career. Pat Cummins has got Rohit out three times, while England's Ben Stokes has done so once. Notably, Rohit joins South African Dean Elgar as the only player to be dismissed three times by Cummins while leading their respective sides. The other captains Cummins has dismissed more than once are Kiwi Tim Southee, West Indian Kraigg Brathwaite, and Ben Stokes. Incidentally, Pat Cummins has so far taken 14 wickets of his opposing captains during his Test career as an Aussie skipper. Interestingly, Rohit Sharma's dismissal in the second innings in Adelaide marks only the second time an Australian captain has claimed the wicket of an Indian captain in a Test match played in Australia. The first instance occurred in January 1968, nearly 57 years ago, when Bob Simpson dismissed M. A. K. Pataudi during a Test in Melbourne.

1031 } The number of balls/overs delivered in the Adelaide Test is the fewest in any 109 Test matches played between India and Australia since the inaugural Test on 1 January 1948 at the Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG). However, it should be noted that one other Test match was played at Feroze Shah Kotla in Delhi in September 1986, a rain-affected drawn game. This match only witnessed 610 balls (101.4 overs) of play, with no play possible on the first three days because of rain.

Note: Both the Adelaide Tests in 2020 and 2024 were day-night games

Rohit Sharma's Test dismissals by the opponent captain

#	Opponent	Mode	Runs	Venue	Month, year	Result
	Captain-bowler	of dismissal				(for Rohit)
1.	Pat Cummins (Aus)	bowled	120	Nagpur	Feb 2023	Won
2.	Pat Cummins (Aus)	lbw	15	The Oval	Jun 2023	Lost
3.	Ben Stokes (Eng)	bowled	103	Dharamsala	Mar 2024	Won
4.	Pat Cummins (Aus)	bowled	6	Adelaide	Dec 2024	Lost

Shortest Test matches between India & Australia in terms of fewest balls delivered (excluding drawn Tests)

Balls	Overs	R/O	Runs/Wkts	Venue	Month, year	won by
1031	171.5	4.14	711/30	Adelaide	Dec 2024	Aus by 10 wkts
1135	189.1	2.89	547/31	Indore	Mar 2023	Aus by 9 wkts
1200	200.0	3.51	701/30	Perth WACA	Jan 2012	Aus by inns & 37 runs
1213	202.1	2.99	605/40	Mumbai WS	Nov 2004	Ind by 13 runs
1246	207.4	2.72	564/31	Adelaide	Dec 2020	Aus by 8 wkts

4.14 } The run-rate in the Adelaide Test is now the highest for any Tests played between India and Australia since inception. Only on two occasions has the run-rate of 4 or more been surpassed in any Tests between these two sides. The previous occasion came in Brisbane during the 2014/15 series.

Test matches between India & Australia that produced the highest run-rates (R/O)

R/O	Balls	Overs	Runs/Wkts	Venue	Month, year	won by
4.14	1031	171.5	711/30	Adelaide	Dec 2024	Aus by 10 wkts
4.13	1842	307.0	1267/36	Brisbane	Dec 2014	Aus by 4 wkts
3.99	2357	392.5	1566/32	Adelaide	Dec 2014	Aus by 48 runs
3.95	2656	442.4	1747/25	Sydney	Jan 2004	Drawn
3.94	1658	276.2	1089/25	Brisbane	Dec 2003	Drawn

All records are correct and updated until 13 December 2024.

Note: India's (355 runs in 81 overs) run-rate of 4.38 in Adelaide is the first time it had exceeded an R/R of 4 runs per over in any Test in Australia. Its previous best was the 3.97 (916 runs in 230.5 overs) in Sydney in January 2004