

Icon living: Having won four Olympic gold medals, six World Championships, and multiple European Championship titles, Mo Farah is one of the world's all-time great athletes.

GETTY IMAGES

+

Track athletes tend to move to marathons as they approach the end of their track career, when they no longer have the same speed.