

stay calm and focus on what's in my control. Staying mentally strong has been key to handling failures and comebacks.

Who is your go-to person in times of crisis?

My family has been my biggest support, especially my father, who is also my coach. I talk to him regularly and discuss every aspect of my game.

Reflecting on your domestic career with Rajasthan, what have you learnt?

Rajasthan has taught me a lot. I've dealt with injuries and challenges over my 14-year career, learning about the game and its political undertones, which is part of every cricketer's journey.

Playing with legends like Mahi

Strong bond — Deepak Chahar on the journey with his State team:

Rajasthan has taught me a lot. I've dealt with injuries and challenges over my 14-year career, learning about the game and its political undertones.

VIJAY SONEJI

(Dhoni) bhai, [Virat] Kohli, and Rohit has been invaluable. Their experience inspires and motivates teammates to bring out their best.

Have you spoken to Dhoni since leaving Chennai Super Kings?

(Smiles) Mahi bhai doesn't talk much over the phone, but I'll definitely meet him soon. I had a great time under him at CSK, and even though we'll be on opposite sides now, I'll catch up with him before the season begins.

« At 32, the next four to five years are likely my peak, so I wanted a team that provides opportunities »