

An if statement consists of a conditional test on one line and a statement or block of statements that run if the test returns True:

```
if plant_height < 3:
    print("Keep it in the greenhouse!")
```

An if statement can also test a Boolean value and run if that value is True:

```
if game_active:
    print("Let's play!")
```