

is a technique you should become familiar with in case you come across it in the code projects you work on.