Australia's Grace Kim (in pic) produced a series of stunning shots at the Evian Championship, starting with an eagle to force a playoff and following it up with another eagle on the second extra hole to defeat Jeeno Thitikul — securing her first LPGA Tour win in dramatic fashion.

Meanwhile, Chris Gotterup held his nerve with clutch shots down the stretch, carding a 4-under 66 to claim a two-shot victory over crowd favourite Rory McIlroy at the Scottish Open.

Venus Williams accepted a wild-card invitation to play singles at this month's DC Open, a ATP-WTA 500 level event, which would be the seven-time Grand Slam champion's first tournament in more than a year. Williams, who turned 45 in June, is listed as “inactive” on the WTA Tour's website. She hasn't competed in an official match since the Miami Open in 2024.

RACING AWAY

American Noah Lyles made an impressive season debut in the 200 metres to beat Olympic champion Letsile Tebogo at the Monaco Diamond League meeting, where Kenyan Emmanuel Wanyonyi outclassed a high-class 800 metres field. Tebogo was quick out of the blocks and stuck with Lyles around the bend with the two side-by-side going into the home straight but the American pulled away in the final 50 metres to win in 19.88 seconds with Tebogo coming home in 19.97.
