

« I had to come back for the insurance. They informed me this year that I'm on COBRA (Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act), so it's like, I got to get my benefits on.” – Venus Williams jokingly said after winning her opening singles match at the DC Open, her first game in 16 months »

« We need to wait for the full Commonwealth Games programme to be released.” – Gout Gout's manager James Templeton regarding the teenage sprinter's availability for next year's Commonwealth Games »

India's Anahat Singh clinched her maiden World Junior Squash Championships medal, a bronze, after losing 0-3 to Egypt's Nadien Elhammamy in the semifinals of the 2025 edition in New Cairo. Anahat became the first Indian woman to reach the semifinals since Dipika Pallikal in 2010, and would have been only the second Indian to reach the final in the women's individual category if she had beaten Elhammamy. Joshna Chinappa was the first, making the title match in 2005.

Tejaswin Shankar broke his own national decathlon record after finishing fourth with 7826 points at the Wieslaw Czapiewski Memorial – a World Athletics Combined Events Tour Gold meeting – in Poland. His previous national mark — 7666 points — was set at the 2023 Asian Games, where he won the silver medal. Though Tejaswin broke the national record again, his tally still falls short of the World Athletics Championships qualifying mark of 8550 points.

WINNING WAYS

A relentless Scottie Scheffler sealed his first British Open triumph by four shots as he turned the final day of the tournament into a procession at Royal Portrush. The 29-year-old American world number one started out with a four-stroke lead and, apart from one blip, never looked like relinquishing his iron-like grip on the chasing pack. GETTYIMAGES
