

ARJUN BAKSHI SKATING INDIA INTO A NEW ERA

From Yamunanagar's Swami Vivekanand Public School to a silver at the 20th Asian Roller Skating Championship in Jecheon, Arjun Bakshi inspires India's next generation.

Fresh off a historic silver medal in Jecheon, South Korea, Arjun Bakshi is being hailed as one of India's brightest roller hockey talents. For him, the victory was more than just a podium finish, it marked the culmination of years of dedication and the fulfilment of a family legacy. His father, Vishal Bakshi, represented India at the Asian Championship in 1995 but narrowly missed a medal. Nearly two decades later, Arjun carried forward that dream and brought home the honor his father once pursued.

A six-time national gold medallist, Arjun's journey began in the classrooms and skating tracks of Swami Vivekanand Public School, Yamunanagar, Sector 17. With early encouragement from his school and family, he transformed his childhood passion into national pride. *"Without the support that my school, Swami Vivekanand Public School, Sector 17, Jagadhri, offered me throughout my schooling, I wouldn't have been able to achieve such great success," Arjun said.

He was equally quick to credit his teammates. "I received support and guidance from the players of the team, who helped me a lot throughout this championship," said Arjun, an alumnus of Swami Vivekanand Public School, Sector 17, Jagadhri, where he has been training in the sport from an early age.

His leadership skills and scoring ability also shone at the World Roller Games 2024 in Novara, Italy, where he emerged as India's top scorer.

What makes Arjun's story truly inspiring is his role as the youngest-ever captain of the senior Indian roller hockey team. At an age when most athletes are still finding their feet, he carried the hopes of an entire nation and proved that belief, hard work, and resilience can lead to greatness.
