

Reds ahead of transfer deadline day. Signing Marc Guehi would have been the cherry on the cake for Liverpool after a brilliant transfer window, but the deal collapsed at the last minute.

Manchester United, still reeling from a devastating loss to fourth-tier Grimsby Town in the League Cup, finally had some reason to celebrate as it clinched its first league win of the season after losing and drawing its opening two matches.

Up against a resolute newly promoted Burnley side, United scraped through after a late penalty from Bruno Fernandes gave it three points. Despite the win, United fans had to watch newly-signed Matheus Cunha go off injured, which will be a concern for Ruben Amorim.

The other Manchester team, however, could not catch a break. After losing to Tottenham Hotspur in its previous match, Pep Guardiola's men were keen to bounce back against Brighton & Hove Albion.

But the Seagulls thrilled their home fans with a second-half comeback, as James Milner scored a penalty against his former side before Brajan Gruda struck an 89th-minute winner.

For Chelsea, it was a good result as it beat Fulham 2-0, but the evening was not perfect for Enzo Maresca, with Liam Delap suffering a hamstring injury that is expected to keep him out for four to six weeks. For another London club, Tottenham, which had made a flying start to the season under new manager Thomas Frank, there was a harsh reality check at home as it lost 0-1 to Bournemouth.

At the end of Matchday 3, defending champion Liverpool tops the table with nine points, followed by Chelsea (7), Arsenal (6) and Tottenham (6) in second, third and fourth respectively. Manchester United is ninth with four points, while Manchester City sits 13th with three points.

Bundesliga

The biggest talking point in the Bundesliga was Bayer Leverkusen's sacking of Erik ten Hag (right) after

Decisive shot: Bruno Fernandes's late penalty assured three points for Manchester United against newly-promoted Burnley. REUTERS just three matches in charge, the latest being a 3-3 draw against Werder Bremen. Reports suggested that the relationship between Ten Hag and the club had soured, and the players were unhappy with the atmosphere in the dressing room.

Defending champion Bayern Munich edged a 3-2 win against Augsburg, with Serge Gnabry, Luis Diaz, and Michael Olise finding the net for the Bavarians. Borussia Dortmund clinched a 3-0 win against Union Berlin, while RB Leipzig beat Heidenheim 2-0.

At the end of Matchday 2, Bayern Munich occupies the top spot with six points. Eintracht Frankfurt and FC Cologne are second and third with the same points, while Dortmund is fourth with four points.

AP