Dhananjaya de Silva and Kamindu Mendis became only the third pair in Test history to score a century in both innings as Sri Lanka thrashed Bangladesh by 328 runs. Skipper De Silva and Mendis added 202 runs for the sixth wicket and 173 runs for the seventh in the first and second innings, respectively. The only other pairs to emulate the feat are Australia's Greg and Ian Chappell (vs New Zealand) in 1974 and Pakistan's Misbah-ul-Haq and Azhar Ali (vs Australia) in 2014.
