How the tables turned: The Indian bowling attack, featuring the likes of Jasprit Bumrah, Mohammed Shami, Bhuvneshwar Kumar, and Ravindra Jadeja, was left in tatters after a relentless onslaught by openers Mohammad Rizwan and Babar Azam. Pakistan did not lose a single wicket while chasing a target of 152 runs, leaving captain Virat Kohli clueless. India never recovered from here, and lost its next match against New Zealand, later crashing out of the tournament. GETTY IMAGES

Painful reprise: Two years after the heartbreaking loss to England in the final of the 50-over World Cup, New Zealand was beaten yet again in another final, this time by Australia. After posting a total of 172, the Black Caps couldn't deter the Aussies, who won comfortably with more than an over to spare. GETTY IMAGES
